PRAISES FOR RHODES

NATIVES HAD TO LEAVE

REDUCED THE NUMBER OF MOUTHS TO FEED

When People Wanted to Surrender, Cecil Rhodes Cheered Them With the Assurance That Lord Roberts' Relief Party Would Soon Reach Them-Methuen Fooled Them.

(Correspondence of the Associated Press.) London, March 21,-Hon, Mrs. Rochfort Maguire, who, with her husband, the British South African company didone by Cecil Rhodes. She says:

"For some time before Magersfon-tein, Mr. Rhodes had felt that in view of the uncertain duration of the siege, it was necessary to get rid of as many mouths as possible. This idea had been at first opposed by the military authorities, but they gave way eventually, and he managed to get rid of some 8,000 out of the 10,000 natives in the compounds. This was splendidly managed by L. Finn, his agent, who understanding the natives thoroughly. won their confidence and explained the mituation to them and led them out of eir way in very good spirits, carrying their belongings, cooking pots, blankets, etc., together with some rations, fully intending, many of them, to return when the war was over.

Must Leave the Town.

"After the battle of the Modder, Lord Methuen, who expected to be in Kimberly almost immediately, sent a message to Colonel Kekewich that he would not be able to remain any time, and so, practically all non-combatants must leave. A little food would be sent in and the town would be only occu-pied by its defenders.

This idea caused great consternation among the people, who thought it very hard that after enduring a siege of two months they should be called upon to leave the town, and go nobody knew where, at almost a moment's no tice. Colonel Kekewich stated at a meeting of the town council that the people would have to leave on the entry of Lord Methuen, but all the same, numbers of the people said they intended refusing to go, the great proportion of them being not at all well off and had nowhere to go. A telegram was sayt by the principal men in the was sent by the principal men in the town setting forth the difficulties of turning out 30,000 people suddenly with-out provision having been made for

'Lieutenant Sweet Escott of the Sixteenth lancers was the first officer to fall, shot dead at fifty yards by a Boer, who received a lance through his throat almost before he could produce the in-variable cry for mercy. Kopje after kopje was cleared and the Boers were driven from them right and left as the column crashed forward like some great oloughshare, thrusting aside the enemy on either side, helpless to withstand the fremendous charge and almost powerless to harm it. heat of the fight.

"The strain upon the horses of the royal horse artillery had been extreme, and it is impossible to praise too highly the handling that brought nearly all of them safely through the melee.

"There was no time to pause, and at last, some three miles on, the first sight of Kimberley burst upon the column through the fringe of trees.

Entry to Kimberley.

"A passage perilous maketh a port pleasant, and the long, weary weeks of anxiety and hardship, the disappointment of Magersfontein, and the heart-sickness of deferred hope were alike forgotten. Kimberley was relieved, and the remainder of the march might as well have been a review, as the immense column emerged from the trees and moved down the long slopes that oppose the rising ground on which Wesselton stands.

The Boers in the north of the town at the intermediate station and Kamp-herdam were firing their last shots herdam were firing their last snots from their great guns in ignorance of their failure on the south, but these soon stopped and General French entered the town, which, in a moment, had put out its flags and decorations.

The Standard's correspondent at Kimberley, writing of the hardships of the siege, says: "For many days the novelty of eating horseflesh formed an agreeable break in the war talk. Not only are the wretched animals reduced to skin and bones, but there is a prevailing epidemic of influenza and cough among them which forces me to abandon its use.

"It is, however, daily served out to the soldiers, as well as the people, though there are cases of anthrax in the hospitals and an outbreak of scurvy in many of redoubts. There also is broken out a peculiar form of throat trouble, which may owe its origin to this article of food.

WORKERS HAVE BEEN TURNED DOWN.

Hammond Loses Strength Because He Managed the Appointment of Maughan as Secretary of the Ag. ricultural College Board of Trustees-Reasons For Quarrels.

Of forlorn, dilapidated and decadent things in this state, none is in a worse condition than the Republican organ izations of Cache and Rich counties The battle against Judge King in the north has become an internal warfare, and Republican scalps dangle on Re publican belts. Demoralization reigns, All of which is another reason why the broad brow of that willows wasp, Wesley Walton, is furrowed like unto plowed corn fields in the springtime of the year. The chairman publican state central committee sides, when at home, in Rich As he is accredited with being tician of some astuteness and rhen awake, he cannot account to his friends for the distraction which perched on the high stool in the For there is turmoil in Cae two of the great counties of the majority for Judge King than Mr. Rob erts had in 1898.

The demoralization is due to severa incidents, among which are the discovery gard of United States Marshal Gles Miller, the Pooh-Bah of federal patron age, and of Mr. Hammond, when acting governor, for the wishes of the organization, and of prominent Repub. licans in these two countie

Causes of Trouble.

One of the causes of trouble was the trick attempted on Thomas Smart, the biggest Republican of Cache county. Robert Murdock, the Logan postmaster, hearing that Mr. Smart had said he would duplicate any campaign con tribution of any Cache county Republican, framed up a scheme, it is said Washington, March 29.—The senate committee on military affairs today authorized a favorable report upon Senator Allen's resolution calling upon the on Mr. Smart, and thus he would give one like it. But the thrifty postmas-ter wanted his check returned. The scheme worked, and when Mr. Smart heard of it he became very indignant. But that is not all. The county com-mittee and prominent Republicans en-dorsed George Odell for postmaster

Mr. Miller turned him down, giving the place to Murdock. That made Mr. Smart very indignant again. Mr. Odell became a candidate for the position of secretary to the Agricultural college board when Joseph Wilson resigned. He was as strongly endorsed as he had been for the place endorsed as he had been to the most of postmaster, for he is one of the country ardent party workers of the county.
Then Mr. Smart, the stalwart, and other stalwarts were indignant again Their anger was directed against Act ing Governor Hammond, who aided in the appointment of Peter W. Maughan As the latter held the place of chief accountant for the state land board, it was considered that he was alread well provided for. Smart Is Smarting.

The antagonism of Mr. Smart and his immediate friends is a thing of moment. How important it is may be realized from the fact that he was so ardent a Republican in 1898 that he paid a poor county chairn is Important Event In the Family of day for his services. He has furnish most of the money on which campaigns have been conducted-and n

Mr. Hammond. Mr. Dykens and Mr. Smith in particular have expressed themselves in terms of violent disgust. Thus fares the Hammond campaign in the north. No wonder Mr. Walton is nervous and is laboring strennously to straighten out the kinks in the line of battle. Add to this the indifference would be straighten out the work where the straighten of the in Juab county because Governor Well has turned down every Republica who sought a place or asked a favo
